

USTA Louisiana Pro Relations Committee and USPTA Louisiana Workshop with Craig Jones from USTA Coach Development as our feature speaker

Title: Practice Like You Play

Have you ever said, "why don't they play like they practice?" Well, maybe the problem is the practice, not the play! This session will show you how to make practice more realistic, build your players' confidence and win more matches.

Title: Controlled Chaos

Ever had a big group of players by yourself and felt that all you did was direct traffic? This session will show how you can manipulate a chaotic environment and keep everyone engaged, learning, and wanting to come back for more.

Location: Tchefuncta Country Club in Covington, LA

Date: Friday, October 27th

Time: 11:30am to 3:30pm

Fee: No charge to certified USPTA and PTR members - $25 for non-members

Below is the registration link for this educational event.

<https://form.jotform.com/232825598419974>

Craig S. Jones is the Senior Director of Accreditation and Certification at USTA. In this role, he is responsible for developing coaching resources, workshops, and overseeing accreditation. Before joining the USTA, Craig spent over 25 years as a Club Owner, Director of Tennis and junior developer, working with players from novice to national and international champions. He is a certified PTR Professional, USPTA Elite Professional and USTA High Performance Coach.

Craig S. Jones is the Senior Director of Accreditation and Certification at USTA. In this role, he is responsible for developing coaching resources, workshops, and overseeing accreditation.

Before joining the USTA, Craig spent over 25 years as a Club Owner, Director of Tennis and junior developer, working with players from novice to national and international champions. He is a certified PTR Professional, USPTA Elite Professional and USTA High Performance Coach